Shoots father-in-law Mandate psychiatric help for Bob Ruggles

With four psychiatrists testifying that Robert Ruggles, 48, was in need of treatment not imprisonment, the Antioch electrical contractor was remanded to a mental health facility by Lake County Judge Fred Geiger.

The entire sentence Ruggles received was four years on probation to include two years of psychiatric treatment at the Elgin State Hospital.

Geiger stipulated that Ruggles must participate in all counseling programs that the hospital staff deems necessary for proper treatment of the Antioch man who was found guilty of attempting to murder his father-in-law John Misk, 66, also of Antioch.

Ruggles attorney and Asst. States Atty. Barry Boches plea-bargained by having the accused plead guilty to burglary and aggravated battery. The accused was granted a new trial because it was decided that the instructions given to the jury at the previous trial were improper.

Geiger also stipulated that the court be notified if Ruggles' release is contemplated before the end of the remanded two years of treatment.

Ruggles has also been forbidden contact with firearms or his father-in-law, besides being instructed to pay to Misk the sum of $1,200 in restitution.

Ruggles shot Misk in his home after accusing him of helping to break up his marriage.

Number two fireman Quedenfeld dies

Jimmie Quedenfeld, assistant Antioch fire chief and a member of the Antioch Grade School Board, died Wednesday Dec. 12 at St. Therese Hospice in Waukegan.

Quedenfeld, a lifelong resident of Antioch, was born April 3, 1936 and was employed at Abbott Laboratories for the past 19 years.

He was a member of the Abbott Fire Brigade. He was the assistant fire chief in Antioch for the past 27 years and was a member of the Lake County Fire Inspectors Assn., the Illinois Fire Chief's Assn. and the Illinois and International Assn. of Arson Investigators.

Quedenfeld was secretary of the Antioch Grade School Board for the past eight years and a member of the Antioch Grade School Band Parents. He was also a member of the Antioch Zoning Board for the past four years. He was a member of St. Peter's Church and also a board member of Mt. Carmel Cemetery in Antioch.

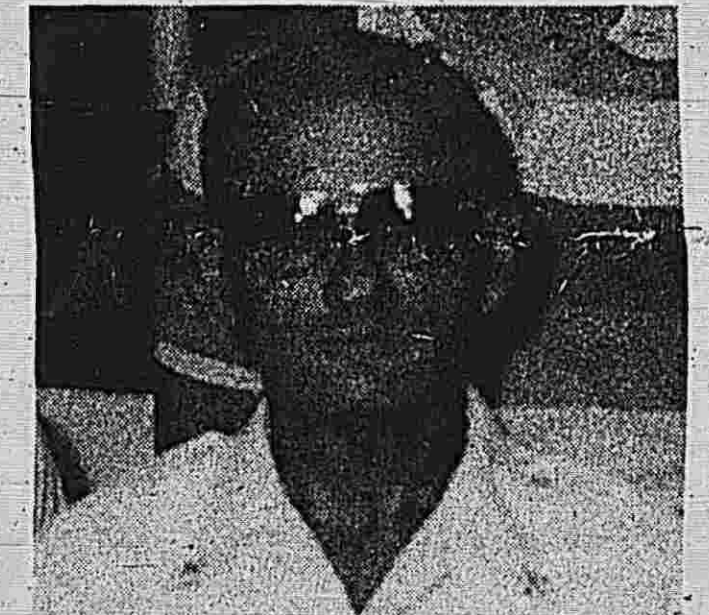

The family received friends on Thursday Dec. 13, from 3 until 9 p.m. at the Maginot Funeral Home. A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated on Friday, Dec. 14, at St. Peter's Church by the Rev. Francis Kub; former associate pastor of St. Peter's and Rev. James Merold, associate pastor of Prince of Peace Church in Lake Villa.

After a long funeral procession in which his casket was carried on the firetruck, committal services were held at Mt. Carmel Cemetery with the Rev. Lawrence Hanley, Pastor of St. Peter's Church officiating.

He is survived by his wife, Elsie (nee Catardi); one daughter, Dawn; one son, Gary and one sister.

In lieu of flowers, the family would appreciate donations to the Antioch Fire Dept. Fire Prevention Bureau or to St. Jude's Research Hospital, P.O. Box 3704, Memphis, Tenn. 38173.

Local anglers issue 'baited' challenge

Three local Canepole fishermen have challenge the Pabst Muskie Team to a three day tournament for muskies.

The losers will donate $100 to the Antioch Lion's Club charities.

Ron Gaa, Bill Brook and Dan Dugenske, all well known panfish killers, openly issued the challenge to the Pabst Team at the last Lions Club meeting while they were having cocktails after dinner.

The Pabst Team of "Patches" (Ray Kerby) "Quickest" (Dave Bushing) accepted the challenge and even offered to give Gaa, Brook and Dugenske a handicap.

The handicap will be that The Pabst Team will use as their third team member, "the worlds worst fisherman," Will Geers.

Now everyone in Antioch knows Will is the best mailman we ever had, but he can't fish.

He has however learned to tell some of the biggest fish stories anyone ever heard. This of course will depend on Stan Luta, our post master, letting Will go with the "Grown up's" fishing.

The Pabst Team will also let the challenger's pick the lake for the contest.

The challengers all have homes in the Springstead, Manitowish Water's area of Wisconsin.

So it is assumed they will pick a lake they have fished before.

A spokesman for the Pabst Team agreed to this because they don't want to waste time looking for Gaa, Brook and Dugenske if they got lost on the big lake's that the Pabst team fishes.

The Pabst team has agreed to send pictures of muskies to the challengers so they will know what to fish for.

The challengers must agree to the two rules of no live bait and that all muskies caught must be released.

The Pabst team will await the challengers, choice of lake and dates for the contest plus their acceptance of terms.

The Pabst Team hopes that the challengers use this paper to give their answer as Pabst wants as many witnesses as possible.

Solves car starting problems

Many drivers have trouble getting cars started on a bitter cold morning because they don't know the proper procedures, according to the AAA-Chicago Motor Club.

Re-read the car owner's manual to re-familiarize oneself with the starting procedure recommended by the vehicle manufacturer. For some newer cars, such as those equipped with fuel injection, the starting procedure might be different from what they are accustomed to.

AAA-Chicago Motor Club technicians suggest this method for most vehicles: make sure all accessories are turned off; press the gas pedal to the floor, release it and turn the ignition key and do not grind the starter for more than 20 seconds. If the car does not start, release the key, wait two minutes and try again.

If a motorist smells raw gasoline, it means they've flooded the carburetor. Shut off the ignition, push the pedal to the floor and hold it there for a full minute. Keeping the pedal down, turn the key and again try to start.

Once the driver finally has gotten the engine going they should warm it by driving slowly for the first few minutes. Racing a cold engine, before lubricants flow, causes severe engine wear. Idling an engine to warm it up wastes gas and actually slows down the warming-up process.

Never warm the car in a closed garage because carbon monoxide fumes contained in the exhaust could be lethal.

Finally, AAA-CMC reminds motorists that even the best starting procedure can't be expected to be effective if the battery isn't fully charged and the engine is not properly tuned.

Set snowmobile course

Beginning snowmobilers will have an opportunity to learn principles of safe snowmobile operation at a free department of conservation safety education course sponsored by the Antioch Jaycees and Antioch Park District scheduled from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Dec. 15 at State Bank of Antioch, according to George Brefeld coordination instructor for the class.

Under Illinois law, the course is required for youngsters 12 through 16 years old who plan to operate a snowmobile without adult supervision. These individuals must have a Snowmobile Safety Education Certificate, issued by the conservation department upon successful completion of the course.

"This is an excellent opportunity for young people who need the course to comply with the law," Brefeld said.

"The course also is beneficial for experienced snowmobilers who wish to brush up on their safety habits," he added.

For more information about the course, contact the coordinating instructor at (312) 395-2160.

When I think about it Doing it yourself is not necessarily cheap

by GLORIA DAVIS

Hats off to the powers that be, fiendish as they are, who continually come up with new ways to increase the profit of the manufacturers. Thumbs down when it's at my expense!

Knowing a little about such words as overhead, cost factor, sale price, net and gross profit it would seem that increases in one or all of these would be proportionate to their inner relationship.

In other words, keeping profits from dropping when overhead rises, usually means a proportionate rise in the sale price.

One might expect the reverse to prove just as true, ergo when overhead decreases the sale price should go down.

You can expect to see that happen on the same day that Uncle Sam starts sending us the same percentage of interest on our tax refunds that he charges us for late payments.

There has always been a certain amount of items on the market that had to be put together after purchase.

Lives there not a single parent who hasn't cursed the person who wrote the directions that are supposed to help frazzled parents erect their children's Christmas toys.

How can you slip A into AA when according to the marks on the parts the alphabet starts with K?

The worse part about these harbingers of frustration is that evidently they are pushing for juvenile parenthood since they continually claim that 10-year children can follow these direction successfully, knowing full well that parents are the usual victims.

None of these practices are new ones. This was a well-known practice when my children were little ummmm years ago.

But the manufacturers have insidiously been slipping more and more products into the do-it-yourself category.

You see a entertainment center on the showroom floor and ask if they deliver since of course it won't fit into your compact car.

Wrong! The clerk smiles and hands you a three-foot by four-foot package that contains this full wall of shelves.

But you must admit the rabbit's foot dangling from the packaging tape is a nice touch!

Eight-foot Christmas trees come in flat boxes, canopied baby beds slip into the back seat with room to spare and fireplace tools are sold in boxes that are six inches tall, the handles being a series of threaded pipes that screw into one another.

Being that the fact that labor has often been blamed for 60 percent of an item's cost, one would then naturally assume that these "self-constructing" gadgets would carry a lower price tag than they used to when all you had to do was take it home.

Wrong again! They seem to be even costlier than the ever rising price index would indicate.

Maybe these geniuses are charging us an entertainment tax in lieu of all the fun we have putting these articles together.

Next week this column will consist of 1,000 words and I'll spare you from having to deal with any of those meaningless directions!

Have a ball! Just put them together in whatever way pleases you.

Hey I like it, I like it!

On Quedenfeld
Editor:

The picture in the December 10 Antioch News of Jimmy Quedenfeld accepting an award for the Antioch Fire Dept. and it's boater safety course is typical of Jimmy who passed away on the morning of Dec. 12.

Capable service, moral leadership, and honest work were his, all of his days. He'll be greatly missed by the entire community.

We know of his responsibilities as assistant fire chief and among other things he always took charge of getting a crew from that department and Lake Villa's to work with crowd control at Antioch High School special events.

Most always, he was a part of the crew.

Interest in education led him to serve the St. Peters Board of Education and later served a number of years with the Antioch Elementary School Board, recently retiring from the post as secretary.

As neighbors, we know him to have been tops with service and concern for all about him. Jimmy was always pleasant and a fine family man.

With his quiet unassuming way, we are sure we have overlooked many stars in his crown.

Home experts claim 'scratch' foods cheaper

When was the last time you prepared a meal entirely "from scratch"—without using any convenience foods?

If it's been a while, Lake County Cooperative Extension Adviser Barbara Dahl has some news that might interest you.

"Although it used to be that a few convenience foods were cheaper than the same foods made 'from scratch,' now just the opposite is true," she said. "In the past, homemakers had to pay much more for ingredients than did large food companies.

"This meant that a few convenience foods were no more expensive than homemade. Now, however, consumers can buy ingredients at lower prices by buying generic foods."

Dahl cited a recent grocery store survey that compared the prices of homemade and ready-made convenience goods in one Illinois town.

"A 40-ounce box of biscuit mix costs $1.46 at the supermarket, but the same product can be made at home for 64 cents. Stuffing mix that cost 98 cents at the store cost only 34 cents to make from scratch. A 20-ounce box of brand-name nutbread mix was $1.35 on sale, but the same product could be duplicated at home for 81 cents."

Canned and frozen convenience foods also proved to be more expensive than the same foods made from scratch, she said.

"Another important thing about homemade convenience goods is the fact that the consumer has control over the ingredients used to make them," she said.

"Another important thing about homemade convenience goods is the fact that the consumer has control over the ingredients used to make them," she said.

Convenience goods are often higher in salt, fat and sugar than are homemade foods, Dahl explained. Canned and frozen goods often contain a lot of water and much less meat or cheese than the same homemade food would have.

"There are laws about how much meat must be in a food if the food has a certain name. For instance, meat ravioli in sauce only has to be 10 percent meat. Chili with beans only has to be 15 percent meat, and chicken chow mein can be as low as four percent meat," she said.

Chances are the chicken chow mein you'd prepare yourself would have a lot more than four percent chicken in it."

People often opt for convenience foods because they want to save time in the kitchen. "But what they may not realize is how much extra they're paying for that time," Dahl said.

When the convenience food is manufactured, another person or a machine has to do the work that the homemaker skips. The cost of this labor is added to the cost of the convenience food. The fancy packaging of some convenience goods can also add to the cost.

"Many people think they have to make a trade-off:

either they get cheaper foods that take a lot of time to prepare, or they get ready-made goods that cost more, but that doesn't have to be the case."

One way to save both time and money is to make convenient mixes at home in large quantities, she said. It may even be worthwhile to make a small quantity of a mix to be used later when there's not much time to cook or bake.

Name Dvorak 'Pro'

Commonwealth Edison recently named Richard Dvorak of 276 Hickory Lane, Antioch, an instrument mechanic at Waukegan Station, Pro of the Quarter.

Edison's Spotlight on the Pro program recognizes generating station employees who perform beyond the requirements of their job.

Dvorak was able to save an estimated three days' labor by changing the point of entry for replacement of a turbine differential coil.

Dvorak was nominated for the award by Robert Pocius of Antioch, an instrument maintenance foreman.

An awards luncheon was held for Dvorak who is now eligible for the Pro of the Year award. Dvorak has been employed by Edison for over eight years.

Museum Of Transport Enlarged

Railroad bugs will be interested to know that the Nuremberg Museum of Transport is growing larger and becoming more interesting in anticipation of the 1985 anniversary year "150 Years of German Railway." The antique vehicle hall has been refurbished and a new hall is being built with 160 meters of track. Additionally, a new department will be opened in the museum illustrating bridge, tunnel and track construction. Information is available from Verkehrsverein, Postfach 4248, 8500 Nuremberg, Federal Republic of Germany.

AARP fetes holiday

The Antioch Area Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) had their Christmas party on Dec. 11.

Guests were Rev. Stephen Williams, Mayor and Mrs. Ray Toft and AARP Asst. State Director William Green and his wife.

A big thank you to all the businesses who gave prizes for the party.

Pam Haley, dance instructor, provided entertainment, doing various Hawaiian dances. She even had some of the members doing the Hula.

Anyone wanting to go on the California trip in June 1985 must get their deposits in, space is limited.

Tickets will be sold for the ice show, Jan. 25 at the next meeting Jan. 8. It will be brown bag lunch and coffee and cake will be served.

VFW sale successful

The Laides Auxiliary of V.F.W. Sequoia Post 4551 wishes to thank all those who helped to make our craft and bake sale a success. Particular, thanks go to Pickard China for its "Christmas Addition" china dishes donated by that company, through Thelma Conway, for the raffles.

Also, Barbara Vanko deserves thanks for her donation of a lovely Cabbage Patch doll, Eleanor Pillar for her beautiful homemade pillow, and Melba Scott for her ceramic cookie jar.

The event would never have been so successful without the many ladies who baked and made so many wonderful crafts. Following is a list of winners of the raffle: Cabbage Patch doll, Ms. Leshken; pillow, Kathy Aude; cookie jar, Lillian Baulek, and the Pickard china dishes went to Helen Mendenhall, Veronica Gahlbeck, Melba Scott, F. Lubeno and Melba Scott.

The arctic tern is the most-travelled of birds. Its round trip migration from the Arctic to Antarctica totals 22,000 miles.

Decorate county museum

The Lake County Museum has been decorated for Christmas. A tree decorated with antique ornaments graces the Museum lobby with beautifully wrapped gifts underneath.

A backdrop is decorated with ornaments made by the second and third grade students at Mechanics Grove School in Mundelein. The students, under the direction of teacher Mary Ann Mullen-Teofilo, made and donated the ornaments to the Museum. Every year, these same students collect money received from doing chores around home, giving up ice cream money, etc. and they present it to the Museum staff.

They compose songs, poems and drawings to accompany their presentation. The funds have been used for exhibit materials. Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. President Donald Strenger praised the efforts of these students, "The Museum and the Forest Preserve District are very grateful to these students for their hard work and dedication to the Lake County Museum."

The Museum also has exhibited two hand-carved folk art churches that were donated to the Museum two years ago. The churches are lit from within and were carved by Charles Warner of Mundelein and were donated by his daughter Lucille Warner, also of Mundelein. The exhibit may be viewed until the end of January.

The Lake County Museum is located seven and one-half miles west of Mundelein on Rte. 176 in the Lakewood Forest Preserve. The Museum is open daily from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Admission fees are: Adults-50 cents, Students and Seniors-25 cents, Preschoolers and Museum Assn. members-free.

Proposal gives solid waste disposal plan

A draft legislative proposal allowing municipalities and counties to enter into long-term contracts for the construction, financing, operation and management of landfills and resource recovery facilities was presented to the Lake County Solid Waste Advisory Committee (SWAC) at its Nov. 28 meeting.

The proposal allows for intergovernmental agreements based on a detailed step-by-step plan for solid waste disposal. At each step, participating governments would have the opportunity to continue with the plan or to end their participation.

Although time-consuming and cumbersome, the proposal is viewed by the Legislative Subcommittee of the SWAC as the best legal means of providing local governments in Illinois with the planning authority and waste stream flow control required to construct and operate a resource recovery facility (such as a garbage incinerator which produces electricity and/or steam for sale).

Certification by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) would be required to implement the plan.

Elected officials who serve on the legislative subcommittee include Verna Clayton, president of Buffalo Grove; Colin McRae, mayor of Mundelein; Jim Dolan, County Board District 5; and Stan Pekol, County Board District 2.

The subcommittee has been meeting weekly with Jeffrey Jeep, assistant state's attorney for Lake County, to arrive at a legislative proposal that can be introduced in Springfield by next spring.

Jeep said, "This proposal provides all the legal mechanisms necessary to implement a solid waste plan. However, a crisis situation may develop before local governments will sign the necessary intergovernmental agreements to see a project through to fruition."

The SWAC also endorsed the Energy Subcommittee's proposed policy recommendations to the Illinois Joint Committee on Public Utility Regulations. The joining committee has requested comment throughout the state on revision of the Illinois Public Utilities Act.

The act has not been updated since 1921 and fails to address technologic and economic changes since that time.

The next meeting of the SWAC is scheduled for Jan. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Libertyville Township Hall, 359 Merrill Ct., Libertyville.

For more information call Bob Burlingham at the County Planning Dept., (312) 689-6350.

Lake County Housing to reopen lease aide

The Lake County Housing Authority announces that the waiting list to receive a Certificate of Family Participation for the Section 8 Rental Assistance Program will be reopened Jan. 2.

The Lake County Housing Authority Certificates can be used only in the authority's jurisdiction, all of Lake County excluding the cities of Waukegan and North Chicago.

Persons wanting to rent in North Chicago, Waukegan or other counties must have a certificate from the housing authorities of those cities or county.

Eligible families may place their name on the waiting list by calling (312) 949-2299 and requesting that a pre-application form be mailed and by promptly returning that form or by completing a pre-application form is person at the authority's office at 300 North Seymour, Mundelein, Ill., Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

If a preliminary determination of eligibility is indicated, the name will be placed at the bottom of the waiting list for the appropriate number of bedrooms.

The bedroom size is assigned by the authority according to HUD-approved occupancy standards. Families already on the waiting list need not reapply.

Applicants may be assured that they will retain the current position on the waiting list, however the authority requests that they notify the office of any change in address, family size or income since they originally applied.

The authority currently has eight one-bedroom certificates available for non-elderly families qualifying for a one bedroom unit.

All other classifications may anticipate a substantial delay in receiving assistance, possibly one year or more for families qualifying for a two bedroom unit, two to three years or more for families qualifying for three and four bedroom units as well and senior citizens and disabled or handicapped individuals.

No one need apply until Jan. 2. For further information: Virginia Tobin at (312) 949-2287.

Farewell to Jimmie

by ROSS FAIRCHILD

If, on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 13, you happened to be around Maginot's Colonial Chapel to pay your respects to a dear and departed soul, you may have experienced a bit of trouble in doing so, as the interior was swelled with a capacity crowd.

On Friday, Dec. 14, that same crowd of the Village of Antioch, paid homage to one of its favorite and native sons, Jim Quendenfeld, as representatives of the fire department, police and rescue squads, both local and visiting, along with dignitaries, friends and neighbors joined in a last ride along through town with Jimmie.

A Town that he dearly loved, as he had so often shown in his manner and deed, and daily routing of duty.

He was one of Antioch's stalwarts. A man for all seasons, who not only brought his talents, time and energy to improving our already accredited fire department as secretary-treasurer and assistant fire chief, under Todd Maplethorpe, but as secretary of the Grade School Board under Dr. Donald Skidmore.

All this activity, plus a regular position at Abbott Laboratories!

Now, there's such a thing as civic pride and Village involvement, but on the other side of the coin, one can readily spread themselves a little too thin.

Let's digress a little. Back on July 2, 1978, for the bicentennial dedication of the Hiram, Bultrick Sawmill, through the combined efforts of Jimmie, who was Parade Marshal, and May Mike Haley, the world famous Medinah Black Horse Troop, with Antioch's own, the late trooper Jim Bruski astride his own horse named Jazibol, gave us all a real thrill as they paraded down Main St. to the sawmill.

Tempus Fugits. Now, it was rumored that someday, Jim, with his ardor and love of the fire department might be in line for a shot at the chief's title, and certainly, no one was any better qualified or deserving than he. But, alas, time ran out.

And so, on the morning of Wednesday, Dec. 12, this fine person made a final curtain call. He was however, not alone. He was comforted by the presence of his loving wife Elsie, devoted daughter Dawn, and fireman son, Gary. He departed in style.

It may take a while, to realize his absence from the scene. You don't easily dismiss the presence of a strong character, who was for the most part an integral being in the community.

He shall be sorely missed by us all. "So long, Jimmie Quendenfeld." You left us, much too soon.

The man who stole the Mona Lisa from the Louvre Museum in Paris convinced his jury that he had done it as an act of patriotism—to return it to Italy—and was sentenced to just over one year in prison.

Flu season arrives

The influenza (flu) season is here. Persons 65 years of age and older and persons with various chronic conditions, including heart disease, lung disease, chronic kidney disease, diabetes and other chronic metabolic diseases are at high risk for complications from the flu and should talk to their private physician about getting flu shots, according to Lake County Health Department Executive Director Steven R. Potsic, M.D., M.P.H.

Having had influenza in the past years may not prevent persons from getting the disease again. The 1985 vaccine will offer protection against three influenza strains: A/Philippines 12/82, A/Chile 11/83, and B/USSR/100/83.

Flu inoculations will be available from the Lake County Health Dept. at various geographic locations throughout the county for senior citizens.

Health Dept. nurses will interview each individual requesting inoculation, and under certain circumstances the inoculation may be deferred or the person may be referred to his or her private physician. There are specific circumstances (as when for example, a person is pregnant, allergic to eggs, has an acute illness or has a persistent or recurrent neurological condition) when inoculation may be considered but only under the direct supervision of their personal physician.

Influenza inoculations will be given by the health department at these locations:

Antioch Area Center, 817 Holbek, Antioch, Dec. 14, 11 a.m.-noon.

Round Lake Area Senior, 916 W. Rollins Rd., Round Lake, Dec. 17, 11 a.m.-noon.

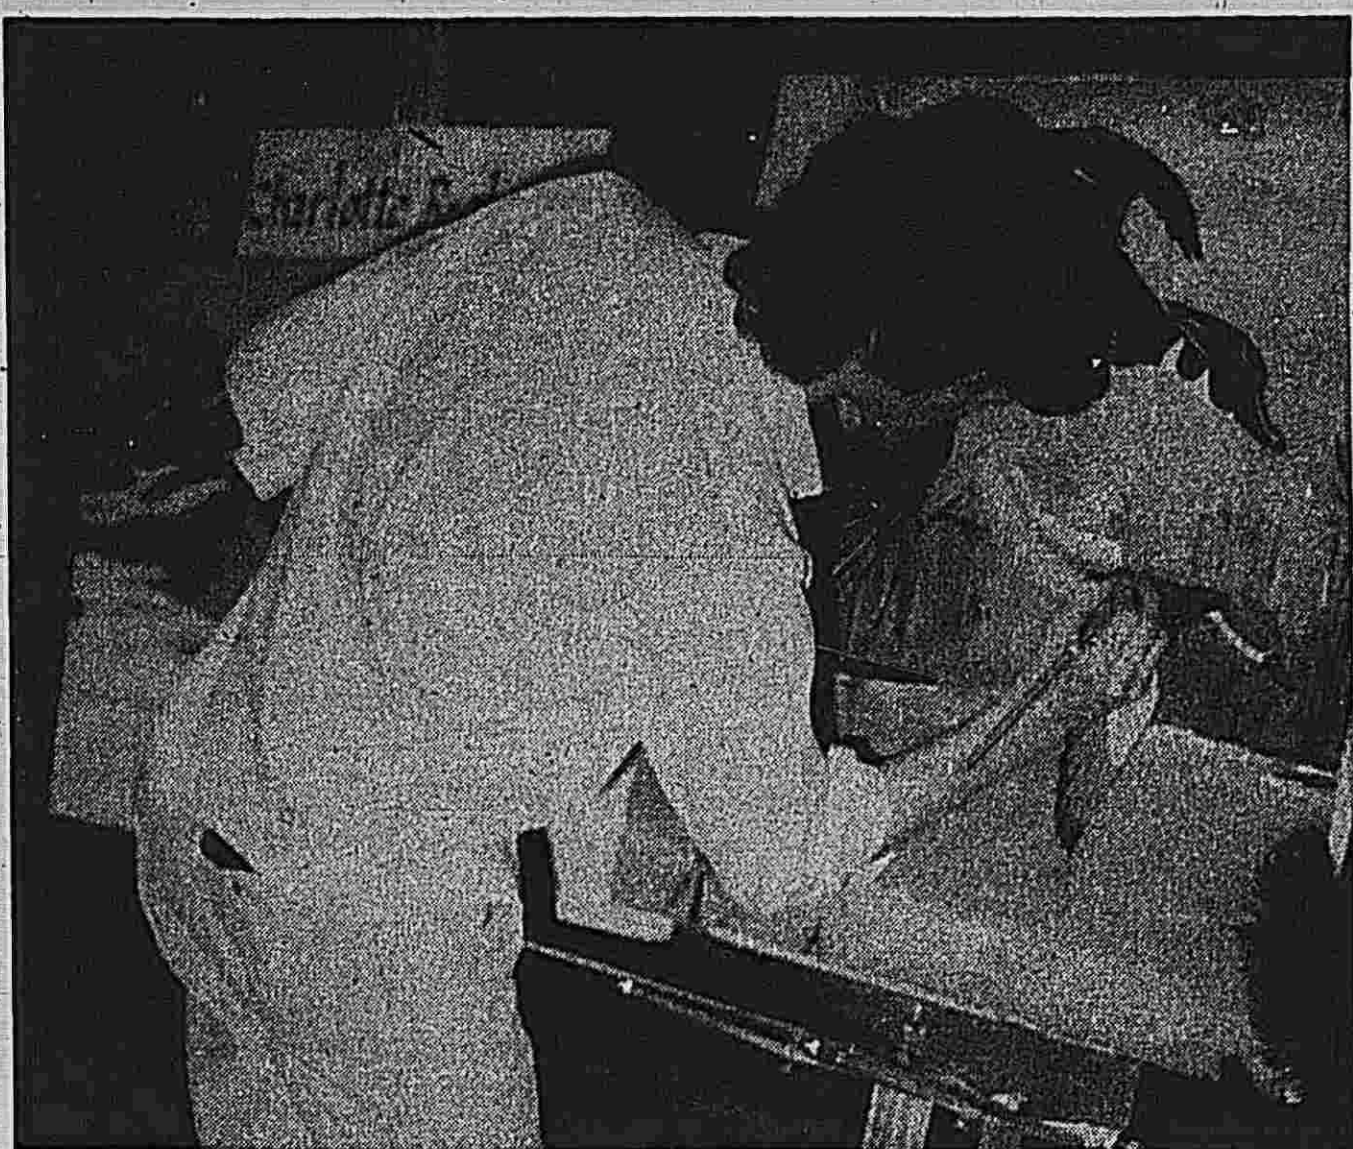

Lincoln Center, 200 W. Maple, Mundelein, Dec. 17, 1-2 p.m.

Fox Lake Center Lions Club, Marvin Dr., Fox Lake, Dec. 20, 11 a.m.-noon.

Any questions about influenza or influenza vaccination may be directed to your private physician or the Lake County Health Department at (312) 689-6761.

IT'S A FACT!

New evidence suggests nonsmokers suffer lung disease from exposure to cigarette smoke.

A study from the Surgeon General of the United States reveals that "passive smoke" can be a serious health risk. An association exists, the study says, between parental smoking in the home and an increased rate of respiratory symptoms among children. These children also have an increased frequency of bronchitis and pneumonia early in life when compared to children from homes with non-smoking parents.

Gov. asks hold-off selection

Governor James R. Thompson asked members of the State Board of Education Tuesday to postpone the selection of a new State Superintendent of Education for 30 days so that six new members to be appointed to the Board can participate in the process.

In letters to Board members, the Governor stressed the importance of cooperation among the new Board of Education, to be appointed after Jan. 1, the Governor, legislative leaders and the new superintendent "to unify on a comprehensive reform and funding package for elementary and secondary education in 1985."

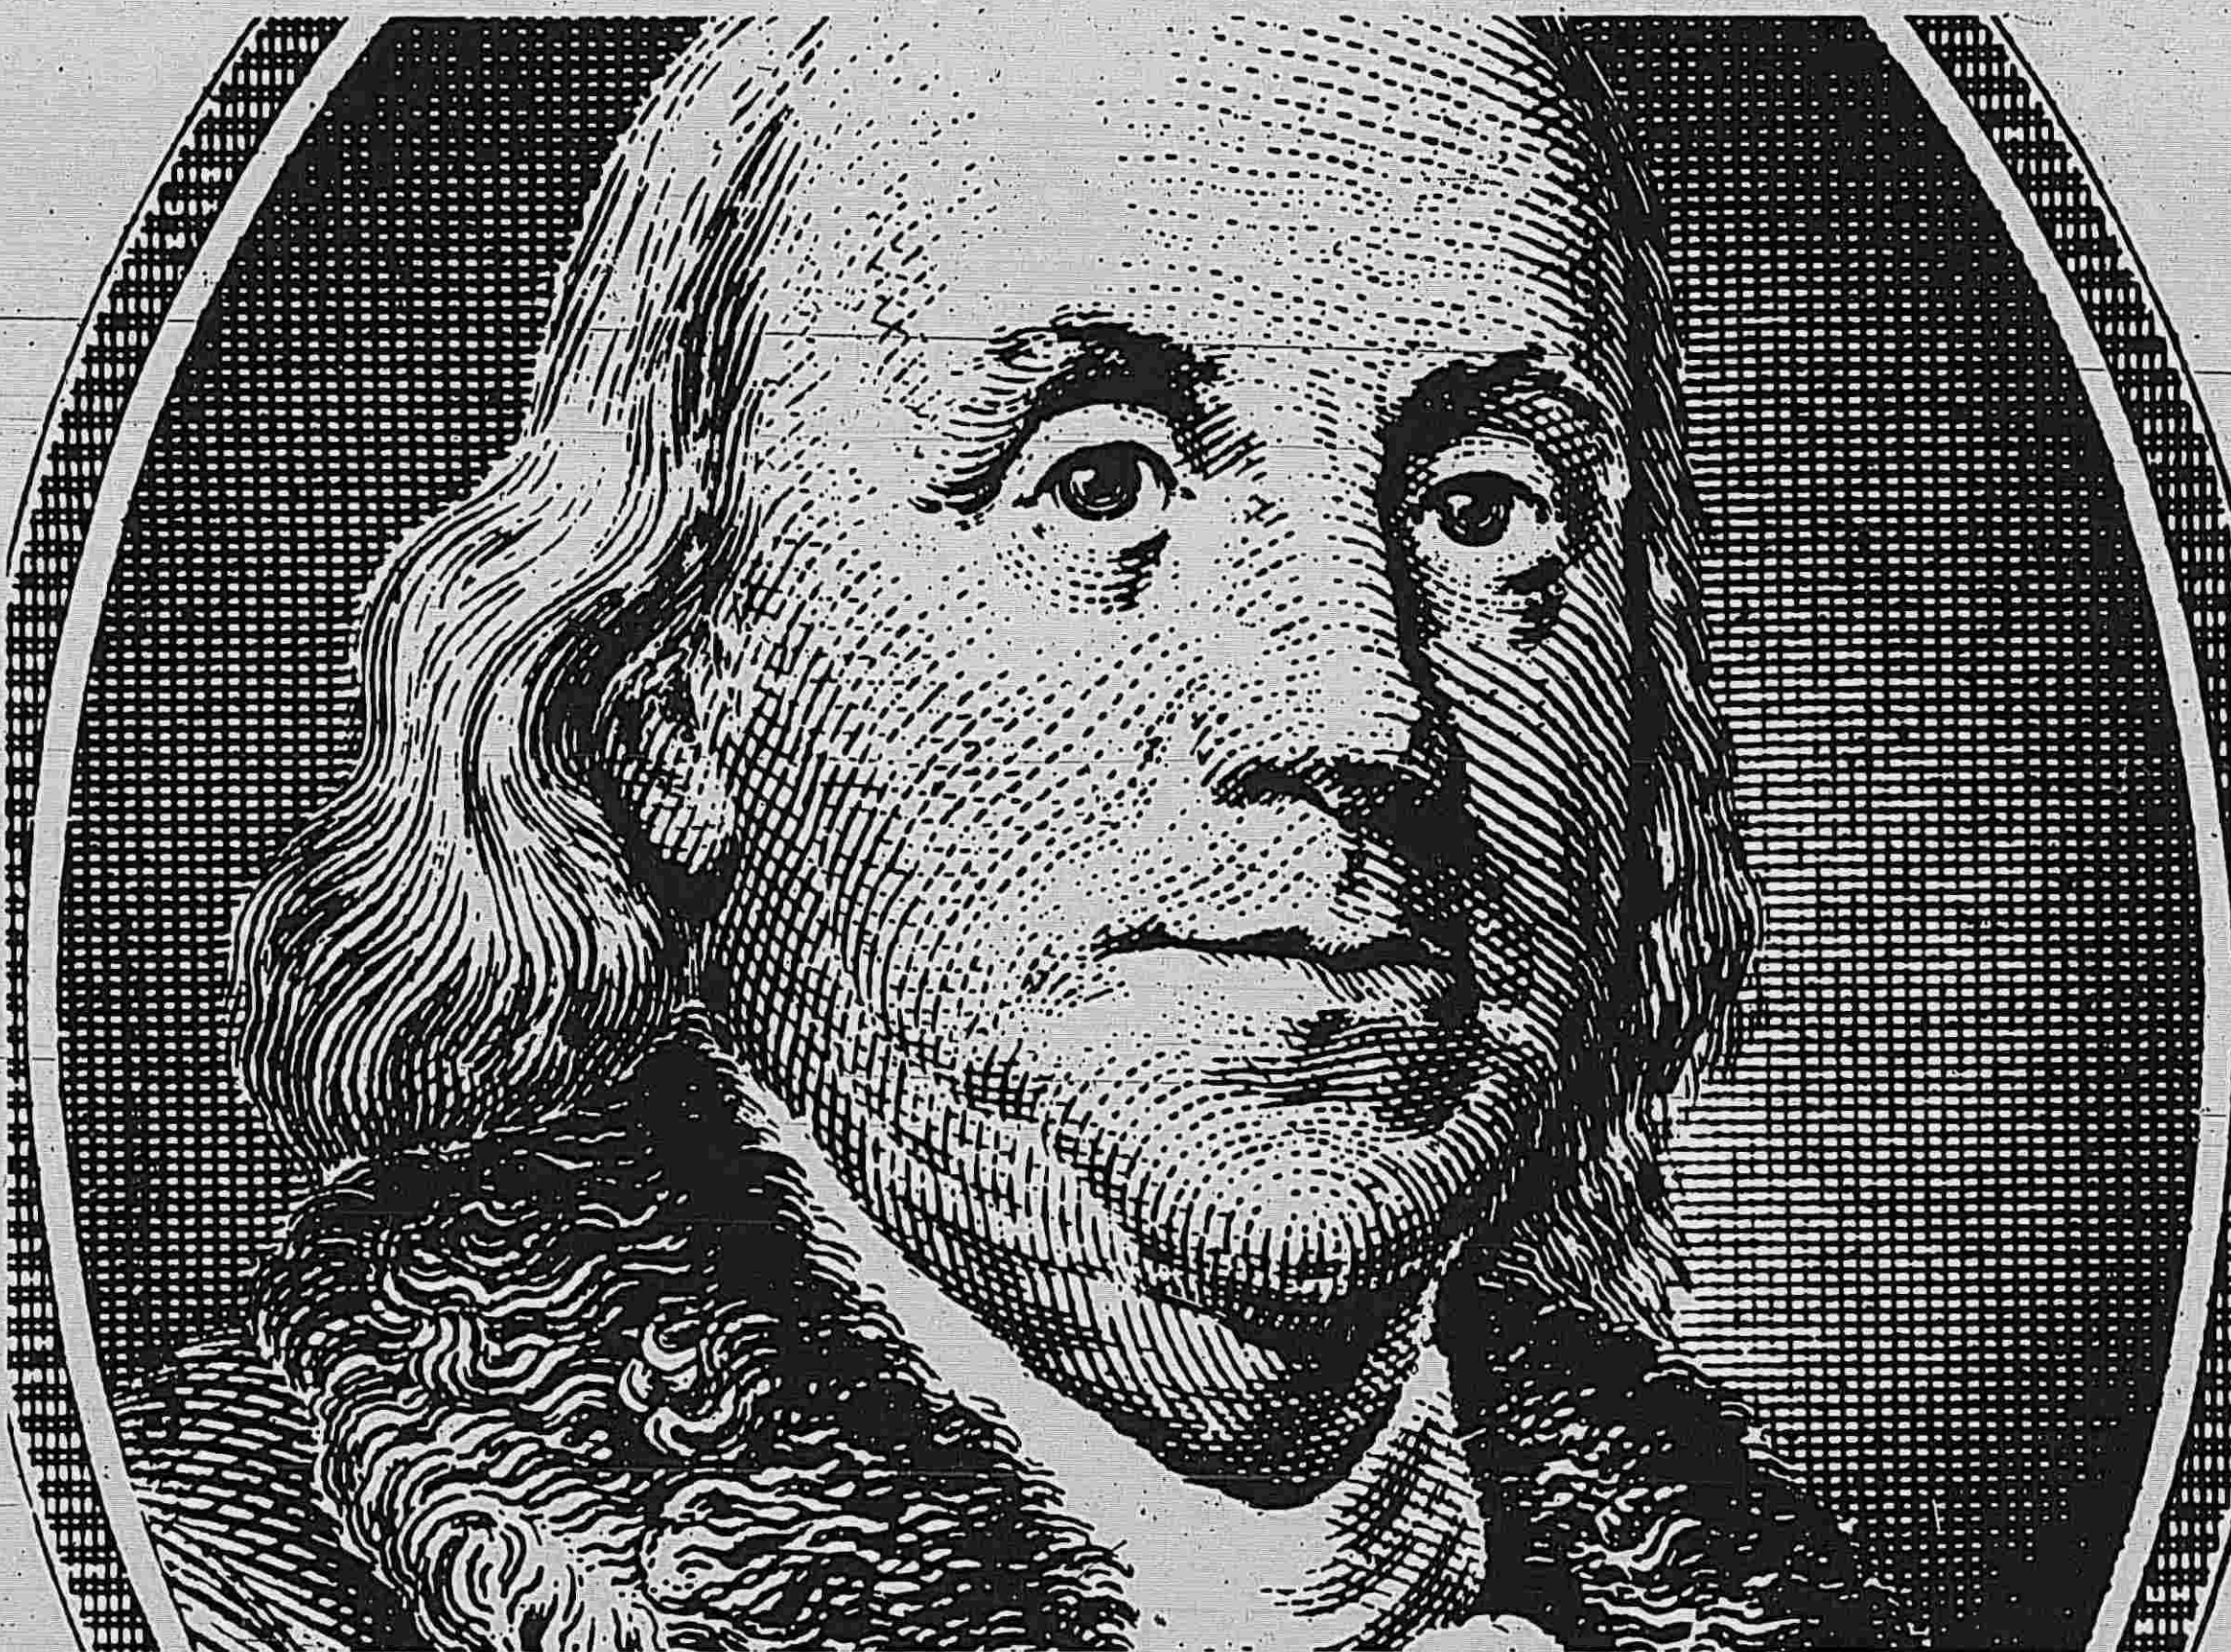

The Governor's letter said:

"The State Board of Education must soon make a selection for its chief administrative officer. As board members, you are aware that I have asked nothing of you over these past eight years except that you carry out your board responsibility in the manner which would best serve the school children of Illinois. Today, as the chief executive officer of the State of Illinois, I am urging you to make the one most responsible decision you can make during the term of your office and that is to delay the selection of your choice for 30 more days.

"A delay in your selection will enable the new Board, the Governor, the legislative leaders, and the new Superintendent to unify on a comprehensive reform and funding package for elementary and secondary education in 1985.

"The 1985 legislative session will be upon us in less than 30 days. This session will certainly be one of the most crucial junctures for elementary and secondary education in the history of our state. I urge you to consider the ramifications of your decision very carefully."

It's hard for us to convince people we're serious about conservation.

So we'll let him do the talking.

If you read the newspapers or magazines, you've probably seen many ads from Northern Illinois Gas, encouraging people to use less gas.

Well, despite all those ads, some people apparently still don't believe we're really serious, about wanting people to conserve.

So we thought we'd let Ben Franklin do the talking.

His face is on the $100 bill.

And that's one of the incentives we offer, as part of our on-going conservation program. If you replace your present gas furnace or boiler with a new one that's 77% efficient or better, you can earn a $100 credit on your coming gas bills, 50% provided by Northern Illinois Gas, 50% provided by participating heating equipment manufacturers, on certain models. Or instead of the $100 credit, we can help you finance the cost of your new high efficiency heating equipment.

If your home needs ceiling insulation, we offer help with both financing and installation. To help determine what energy conservation measures would be most worthwhile, you can take advantage of a utility-sponsored home energy audit that's a great value for just $15. And we have special conservation programs to help low income families, senior citizens, and the physically handicapped.

The next time you hear someone say that "the gas company" doesn't really want people to use less gas, we hope you'll remember:

At Northern Illinois Gas, when it comes to conservation, we're a lot more than just talk.

Sequoits lose tough one to Libertyville

by MIKE PRAMSHAFFER

The Antioch High School varsity boy's basketball team suffered its second loss in North Suburban Conference play last weekend.

The Sequoits fell to the Libertyville Wildcats 51-47 at Libertyville to drop their conference record to 1-2 and 1-5 overall.

Antioch head coach Don Zeman was pleased with his team's performance though, calling it "their best game of the year thus far."

Antioch played the Wildcats tough throughout the whole game.

The Sequoits led after one quarter of play 13-10 and kept that lead through the second quarter, leading 27-26 at the half.

The roof caved in on the Sequoits in the third quarter though as Libertyville outscored them 16-6 in the third stanza.

"They pressed us the whole game and it finally got to us in the third quarter. They outscored us 12-2 during six minutes of the third quarter," Zeman said.

Libertyville led 42-33 going into the fourth period and held on for the 51-47 victory.

Antioch tried to comeback in the final stanza, outscoring the Wildcats 14-9 but that wasn't enough.

Libertyville led by 12 points with five minutes left but made the score close by missing its free throws down the stretch.

Senior Joe Keim led the Sequoits in scoring and rebounding as he pumped in 18 points and grabbed 7 rebounds.

Zeman singled out Keim as having an exceptional game. Along with his team leading points and rebounds, Keim also had five assists.

Zeman was also pleased with the play of Junior Don Gunther, who had six rebounds.

"Gunther and Keim played exceptional ball games. Gunther was a real strong force on the inside and Keim gave us a strong balanced attack," Zeman said.

"Overall, it was our best game of the year. I'm pleased with the improvements we've made," he added.

The Sequoits outrebounded Libertyville 27-24 but the Wildcats had the edge on the offensive boards, which, according to Zeman, was the difference in the game.

"They outrebounded us on the offensive end and I think that part of the game gave them the victory," Zeman said.

Antioch will attempt to even its conference record when North Chicago comes to town on Friday, Dec. 21.

"I feel good about the North Chicago game. We've made a lot of adjustments and I'm pleased with the progress we have made during the past few weeks," Zeman said.

Zeman expects to see a lot of pressure defense from the Warhawks, along with some quickness and strong rebounding.

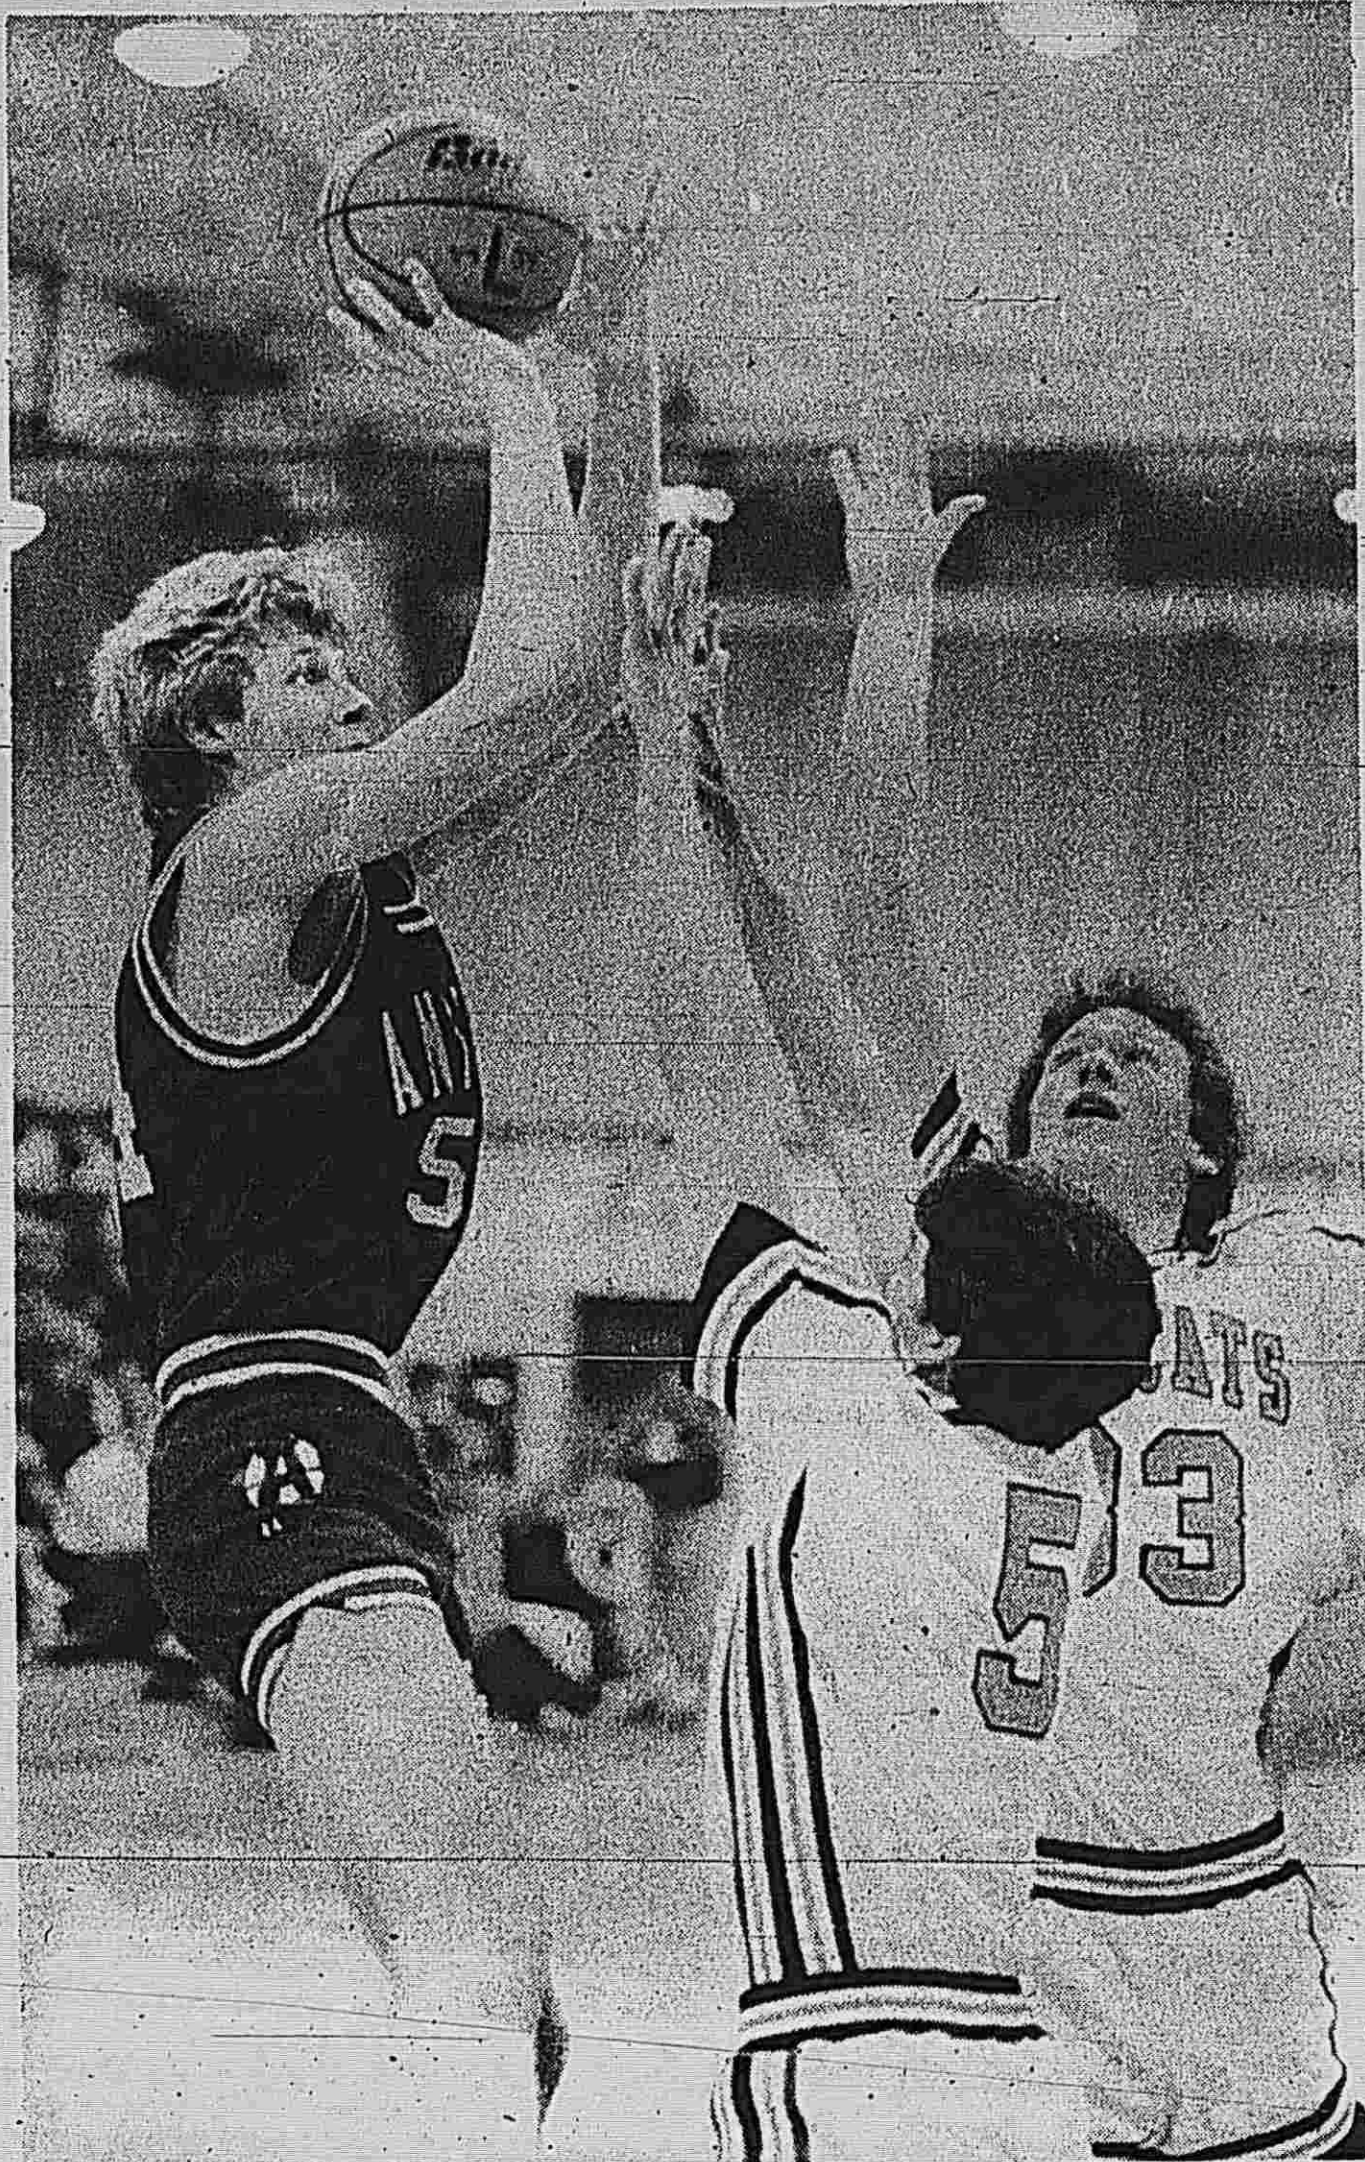

"They're going to be tough on the boards if J.C. Coleman plays against us," he said.

The North Chicago center (Coleman) sat out last week's game against Zion-Benton because he was academically ineligible for the week.

Zeman said the Sequoits will play an active zone against the Warhawks, which caused some problems for Libertyville last weekend, according to Zeman.

North Chicago is coming off a 56-48 loss to Zion.

The first fire extinguisher, invented by a German physician in 1734, consisted of glass all filled with a salt-water solution designed to be hurled at the blaze.
